

It's Summer. It's Time to Get Naked! Ten answers to your naked questions.

Written by Happy Bare
Monday, 01 June 2015 22:55 -

Photo from <http://hcb4.tumblr.com/>

It's summer! The sun is shining and the temperatures are finally heating up. For most of us, our thoughts turn to weekend cookouts, baseball games, swimming pools and fire pits.

It's also a great time to go outside and get naked. Most nudist camps allow guests to try their facilities from Memorial Day to Labor Day. While it may sound a little intimidating at first, a nudist camp is a great way to learn more about nude recreation and can be a great experience for you and your spouse.

My wife and I are not nudist. We don't sit around the house naked or garden in the buff. It doesn't fit with our lifestyle, however when we can get some time away from our family, jobs, and other commitments, we've found a day (or afternoon) sitting in the sun wearing nothing at all can be a wonderfully relaxing...

FG_AUTHORS: Happy Bare

Read more <https://happybare.wordpress.com/2015/06/01/its-summer-its-time-to-get-naked-ten-answers-to-your-naked-questions/>