Today, there are more year-round nudists in Pasco County, Florida, than anywhere in the world. On April 25, 1941, Avery Weaver Brubaker and his wife founded Lake Como Club, the county's first nudist resort and location of the 2012 AANR Convention.

In an article for the New Port Richey Patch, naturist historian Lee Gregory explains how the community grew. To help celebrate the 71st anniversary of nudism in Pasco, Patch interviewed Gregory to find out more about the naturist community's beginnings, challenges, and accomplishments.
